

DRUG AWARENESS IN THE WORKPLACE

The use and abuse of drug and alcohol at the workplace is an imminent problem in our society.

We, at SASOHN, would like to assist the Occupational Health Nursing Practitioners and multidisciplinary team members to approach this with the necessary skills. Workplace drug and alcohol testing requires insight into medico-legal and ethical aspects in the context of human dignity and safety in the workplace.

This programme will address the issues relating to “Drug Awareness in the Workplace” and will enable persons in responsible positions to implement a reliable drug awareness programme in the South African Industry.
